The 4th International Symposium on Discourse Studies (JIED) and the 3rd International Meeting of Images in Discourse (EIID) is an initiative of the CNPq Research Groups GEDUEM (Study Group on Discourse Analysis of State University of Maringá), GEF (Study Group on Foucault Studies), GEPOMI (Study Group on Political and Mediatic Discourse), GPLEIADI (Research Group on Reading, Discourse Analysis and Images of the State University of Maringá) and GPDISC MÍDIA (Research Group on Discursivity, Culture, Media and Arts of the State University of Maringá) linked to the Programme of StrictoSensu Postgraduate Education in Linguistic and Literary Studies of the State University of Maringá (UEM).

The events are meant to promote the exchange of academic experiences among researchers, teachers and students from Brazil and abroad who conduct research into the constitution, formulation and circulation of discourses in contemporary society.

In all editions of these two events, the interdisciplinarity and themes of the presentations and talks give visibility to national and international research on varied textual and imagetic manifestations of language through different theoretical and methodological perspectives.

Conferences, roundtables, coordinated sessions and posters will be held at both events.

Participants who hold or are getting a master's degree can present their work through posters, which will be debated by postgraduates who hold or are earning a doctorate degree, and in coordinated sessions through oral communications which will be discussed by guest PhD professors. College students can participate auditing only.

Registration for presentations in coordinated sessions and posters can be made 23 October through 15 December 2017 and 16 December 2017 through 28 February 2018.
